Another Leader, Former Tempe Mayor Hugh Hallman, Endorses Jerry Weiers For Glendale Mayor
Hallman Joins Scruggs, Franks and Wilson In Support Of Weiers

(Glendale, AZ) He served the people of Tempe for two terms as Mayor from 2004 to 2012. Before that he served four years as a City Councilman. Hugh Hallman preserved Tempe's quality of life while maintaining a balanced budget during difficult economic times. Hallman knows what it takes to be a leader and that's why he is endorsing Jerry Weiers for Mayor of Glendale.

He joins a growing list of leaders who feel the same way. Weiers has also been endorsed by Glendale Mayor Elaine Scruggs, Maricopa County Supervisor Max Wilson, and Congressman Trent Franks.

Hallman said, "Being Mayor requires the ability to make the tough AND the right decisions. Jerry's experience as a state lawmaker who helped balance Arizona's budget during a recession, gives him the background needed to lead Glendale."

Weiers said, "Mayors such as Hallman and Scruggs set the standard for what it takes to be a true public servant. As Mayor of Glendale I will live up to their legacies and their faith in my abilities."

Weiers has been endorsed by Glendale Mayor Elaine Scruggs, the Arizona Fraternal Order of Police, The Arizona Police Association, the Glendale Chapter of the Phoenix Firefighters Association, local leaders like Congressman Trent Franks, Supervisor Max Wilson, and a host of West Valley lawmakers and leaders.

Weiers moved to Arizona in 1966. He has represented the West Valley in the State Legislature for nearly eight years. He worked alongside Mayor Scruggs in efforts to bring the F-35 to Luke Air Force Base, solidifying this critical economic engine for Glendale. As a state lawmaker, Weiers has also helped Arizona recover from years of previous over-spending, turning a multi-billion dollar deficit into this year's budget surplus.

Jerry is an accomplished pilot who flies out of the Glendale airport. He is a motorcycle enthusiast, and he is a member of the El Zaribah Shriners Motorcycle Unit. He performs in parades across the state and is also a reservist for the Arizona Department of Public Safety. For more information go to www.weiersformayor.com
